Youth Rebellion At Trinity Hall

Grimsby Amateur Thespians With Hollywood Aspirations Will Present Play Tonight and Tomorrow Night.

There is Rebellion in Grimsby. This week at Trinity Hall the Trinity Service Club is presenting a full evening of fun called "The Rebell'on of Youth." The girls of the Service Club have had many a good laugh at the comedy in the play and the audiences, this coming Thursday and Friday nights, are going to have as much fun.

The play deals with the way in which a mother, Mrs. Denton, shows her daughters what fools they are making of themselves living their own independent lives on I high artistic plane.

Auntie Nudge, the lovable colored mammy is highly disturbed by the carryings on of the family. Her opinion on modern dress and manners adds many a humorous touch.

Alebie Snip, the local gossip spends half of her time trying to keep up with the latest activities of Mrs. Denton the other half of her time she spends spreading gossip.

All the characters are well taken and the plot is good, and audiences are assured of an evening of good entertainment.

Nine Acres Sold On Murray Street

Councillor Bull Reports That Town Is Just About Cleaned Out of Real Esate-Only Fairview Lots Left.

Councillor Harry Bull, Chairman of the Property Committee, reports that he has disposed of nine acres of land on the east side of Murray street, to Mr. Dokkan of the E.D.H. Co., Ottawa and Grimsby.

Sometime ago Mr. Dokkan purchased the four and one-half acres at the lake end of Murray street, less 150 feet in depth, full width of the property, along the lake, which the town retained. Last week he closed a deal with Mr. Bull for the adjoining nine acres lying to the south of his original purchase.

The sale of this block of land practically put the Town out of the real estate business. They have left on their hands now only one or two lots in the Nelles Boulevard district and some lots in Fairview. which cannot be sold for building purposes until such time, after the war, that sewers can be constructed in this section.

Wm, Vickers Died Of Natural Causes - Believed To Have Suffered Seizure.

It has been learned from official sources that William Vickers, 80year-old North Grimsby township farmer, died from natural causes and was not a victim of foul play as at first suspected. There will be no inquest in connection with the death, Crown Attorney E. H. Lancaster, St. Catharines, has announced.

Mr. Vickers, who esided alone, was found in his home, bloodstained and unconscious and the room in which he lay gave the appearance of a struggle having taken place. Taken to hospital, he died a week later without regaining consciencess. A post-mortem, performed by Dr. W. J. Deadman, indicated that he had suffered s seizure and there was no sign of foul play.

FACTS & FANCIES

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

So near is grandeur to our dust So near is God to man When Duty whispers low, Thou must, The youth replies, I can!

-Emerson.

THE EPIC OF FREE ENTERPRISE

This is an age of synthetics. We have synthetic rubber and any number of artificial materials which science has developed to take the place of the natural product, and we are told that many of them are just as good as, if not better than, the real thing, writes Lewis Milligan. These and numerous other inventions are the products of human ingenuity and enterprise, stimulated by industrial and commercial competition.

The motor car, the radio, airplanes, vacuum cleaners, refrigerators, washing machines and a host of modern mechanical appliances were invented and gradually brought to their present degree of perfection by the urge of competition and salesmanship. The incentive behind it all was the desire and the opportunity to produce something better than the product that was the market - to outmode the other fellow's product and to capture the business. That kept the other fellow from sitting back and enjoying a monopoly and urged him to try to go one better still.

That is free emerprise, and without it we would still be in the horse-and-buggy days. Many of our inventions were in the first place regarded as mere curiosities and scientific playthings. It was not until some enterprising business men realized their possibilities as profitable selling propositions that those playthings of science were developed and introduced as the necessities of modern life. They created the demand by advertising and salesmanship -- high-pressure, if you like; but there is no progress without pressure.

When the Fistory of the past fifty years of progress on the North American Continent comes to be written, it . . . be a great epic of free enterprise. It is beyond all question the most amazing period in human history And it was a period in which human free om prevailed as it never had prevailed before. It was no Utopia, and its people had no thought of establishing a perfect social and economic order. They were too busy and preoccupied with the intensity of living and making the best of the order in which they found themselves. They had no time for revolution or for theorizing and planning for the andre. They obeyed the manly injunction of the people's poet, Longfellow,-

Trust no future, howe'er pleasant! Le che dead past bury its dead! Act-at in the living present! Heart within, and God o'erhead!

They did not fret and whine over the difficulties and struggle of life and demand that the government owed them an "opportenity" and a "living." Life itself was a great and glorious opportunity, and the adversities of life were a challenge to their courage, ingenuity and enterprise. They were a free and self-reliant people. Life was a struggle, and they liked it. They wanted no regimentation, and to Youth they said:

In the world's broad field of battle, In the bivounc of Life, Be not like dumb, driven cattle,-Be a hero in the strife!

These lines of Longfellow may have become shop-worn and trite with us, but to the youth of the nineteenth century throughout the English-speaking world they were a clarion call to individual initiative. Many examples of individual heroisin have and there are topped by 16 830,000 farm women who mushave been a great many more of which we wil never know.

Asyouth has responded to the call of war, so tey will respond to the call of peace. But it must be a call to courage and not to fear. It was not the fear but courage that urgedour forefathers and mothers to cross the sas and endure the hardships of pioneer life. If they had been afraid of the future thy would sever have entered upon that erilous adventure. They were self-reliant ndividualists.

Emerson, in his essay on "Self-Reliance," struck the key-ote of American progress, when he said: Trust thyself: every heart vibrates to thatiron string." The cry today is, "Trust the Gvernment - the politicians: they will take care of you from the cradle to the grave." Inly the heart of a coward and an idler would vibrate to that fiddle-string.

EARLY HOLIDAY MAILING

It is important that you do your Christmas mailing as early as possible. The folks who ordinarly wait til a week or two before Christmas bef buying and sending gifts and greetings, Il cause great congestion of postal work if they adhere to this habit this year. A time of labor shortage is one in which it will be hard to get mail handled and delivered promptly.

Some people have always bought their gifts at a late date because, as they said, they did not have the money to buy the things before. This year, with national income greatly increased, regular work general, and many people getting big pay, it should be easier to buy earlier.

One would think most people could as well get their Christmas gifts within a very short time, and get them off promptly. Hard worked postal people would look at such a change as a godsend.

TME CIRCUS ERA

The circus era, as far as this part of Ontario is concerned, seems now to be a long way away. Away back to the horse-andbuggy days in fact, says The Seaforth Expositor. But anyone over middle age can still remember the lure of a circus. Can still remember when at least one travelling circus would set up the Big Top; in three or four of the largest towns in every country.

And, if memory has not completely failed, a good many can still remember the thrill of seeing the glaring posters so lavishly displayed over the countryside, and can still remember the thrill of anticipation that lodged in every boy's mind and completely absorbed his thoughts.

Memory, too, will lead them back to one of the great mysteries of that age. When they used to wonder greatly why fathers could be so easily convinced that attendance at the circus-including the whole familywas an educational and social feature of such magnitude that it should not be neglected. It was, it seemed, the only time in the year, hat fathers were willing, and often eager to sacrifice their time and money to give the boys, and often girls, a real good time.

But while that era has passed us by in this part of America, the circus lure is apparently, just as strong as ever in the country south of the line. Because we noticed the other day that the Ringling Broz. and Barnum and Bailey Circus wound up a 7 433 mile tour at Tampa, Florida, before going into winter quarters in the same State, after playing to a record aidience this year of 4,-270,000 people.

Roland Butler, general press representative, said the circus gave 374 performances in 57 cities, compared to performances in near, one hundred cties last year, when some 4,000,000 people naw the Big Tops in operation. And, consdering that gas restrictions are more swere in a great many American States than in Canada, and transportation facilities jut as hard to obtain, these figures speakvolumes for the strength of the circus bug inthe human system.

Mr. Butler also etimated that the circus animals consumed 1,66 tons of hay and 17,-810 bushels of oats while on tour. The elephants, he said, dran 535,000 gallons of water. The amount f pink lemonade consumed by the circus pectators is not given.

WOMEN PLAYING

A MAJOR ROLE With so many things happening so quickly these days fw people stor to think about the really largepart women are playing in the war effet, and they are doing a really grand job. Lere are now approximately 30,000 womenin uniform. It seems a lot but the figure loks small alongside the 255,000 engaged diectly or indirectly in war industries, and anther 400,000 doing work of a high prioritmature.

But even lese figures, large as they are are toiling the hardest of all for the nation and for the men they have sent overseas. Ever since their husbands, brothers or sons left the plows and donned uniforms they have been putting in long hours doing all kinds of hard jobs on farms where help has been all too scarce.

All along the line with manpower shortages growing ever more acute, women have been filling in, and are proving how well they can work. Now for the first time in the history of any army in the world Canadian women are staff officers and on an equal footting with men. In the CWAC's they are now "carrying on" in no less than fifty trades. In some of the larger centers women military police have been on duty for some

One of the newer jobs they have tackled is in the women's division of the RCAF where they do escort duty on trains and in large centers. There are women clerks in the RCAF who are keeping a check on the position and course of every aircraft, surface ship and submarine approaching Canada's Atlantic coast. So secret is their work that even its exact nature cannot yet be disclosed.

By the end of this year there will be 5,000 Wrens replacing various cate, ories of nava! personnel. And those in the nursing services must not be forgotten. There are now more than 2500 nurses in war uniforms of whom 170 are with the R.C.A.F. nursing services and 154 Royal Canadian Navy.

In one Nova Scotia shipbuilding yard 300 women are working as crane operators, acetylene welders, electricians, pipe fitters and other jobs. In Toronto in two of the large plants working on war orders 10,341 women are either making all the parts for quick firing weapons or checking and super-

Thousands of married women are working in munitions plants. No less than 45,-000 women have been organized for civilian air defense work. And in addition to all these there is the army of tireless workers all across Canada working for the Red Cross, LO.D.E. and Navy League.

FARMERS BEWARE

Remember the story of Little Red Riding Hood and the big bad wolf? It might be a good idea to read it again, thinks The Bowmanville Statesman - and then look closely about you today. Let us put the case this way:

An "Idividualist" is a person who makes his own wayearns his living and the respect of neighbours, pulls his share in community effort, asks no charity in good times, or bad, puts asidesome hard-won dol-lars for old age and the sildren. A "Rugged Individualist" is a farmer with all the above qualities—and then some a man who has won his land by the swee of his brow and who will defend it to his las gasp. If you've got a better definition, thentrot it out.

In the daily pres of Oct. 27, 1943, we find these remarks inthe report of a speech of E. B. Jolliffe, Opario leader of the Socialist C.I.O., C.C.I., C.C.F., before the Electrical Appliance Dealrs' Association in Toronto: "Today the rugged individualist is most likely to end as a raged individualist"—and he called farmers to unitewith his leftist laborites. Mr. Jolliffe was a Rhodes Scholar, is now a labor-lawyer quite unfamiliar with whiffletrees, stifles, spaviles, roup, pip, garget, Bang's disease and lorny-handed hard work. His prophecy for farmers, "raggedy farmers," is the most anazing confession ever made by a public man, for, NOTE THIS: he plans to form the next government in the Province of Go, and will deal with "Ragged Individua. ets."

In his confession he might have added these facts: "From 1926 through 1940, labor and farmers combined, took 74.2% of Canada's total national income, leaving 25.8% for all other groups." National partners you say? But wait! "Of the 74.2% labor got 62.3% and farmers just 11.9%. Look it up for yourselves in Government releases. Will the C.C.F. cut labor to the farmers' level? Will labor stand for that raggedy treatment? Get hep!

Dear Emily Post:

It would seem that the rule of a widow retaining the use of her husband's Christian name is about to succumb to public pressure. Rule or no rule, many widows prefer to use, or rather insist on using, their own Christian name rather than that of their late husband, as, Mrs. Anna Jones, not Mrs. Henry E. Jones. This they do -2 2 means of indicating to all and sundry their changed status.

The custom has become so widespread and, when you co to think of it, seems so rational that we suggest the rule be amended by withdrawing the word "must" and substituting therefor the words

The Bride And The W.P.T.B.

The war is indeed beginning to strike home when the length of the bridesmaid's gown is set by law. Under the clothing regulation of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board only the bride may wear a long gown. Her attendants may not wear gowns longer than forty-three inches; that is, unless they purchased their gowns before the restriction tions went into effect.

There doesn't seem to be anything in the ruling to prevent girls borrowing the long frocks worn by the bridesmaids of Aril October.

If the bride decides to claim her prerogative and wear along gown it must be either cream or white.

Thanksgiving Day In The Good Old U.S.A.

To-day the traditional festival of Thanksgiving is being cle brated in the United States, and wherever all over the earth's surnce good Americans get together,

While it is true that a day of Thanksgiving, immediately following their first harvest, was proclaimed by the governor of the little band of Pilgrims who landed at Plymouth Rock, and that national days of Thanksgiving were ordered on sporadic occasions thereafter, it was left to Abraham Lincoln to stabilize an annual day of Thanksgiving

In 1864 President Lincoln appointed the last Thursday in November to be set apart to commemorate the cessation of hostilities in the Civil War and the preservation of the Union. This date was religiously adhered to ur'll last year when President Roosevelt enacted that each state might appoint a day of its own choosing. As may be imagined the result of this ruling was not altogether satisfacory.

We know a member of one of the older families in this neighbourhood (they came over with the U.E.L.'s) who is energetically systematically and untiringly searching out and putting together all the information she can uncover about her family in all its ramifications. The unearthing of one long-lost fact often brings to light a whole series of entertaining episodes occasioned by the intertwining of many family trees dating all the way from the Exodus following the War of American sependence right down to the present day.

Mrs. Quayle, who is also gifted with eyes that see, cars that hear, and a heart that understands, has succeeded in making a delightful book, with thrills, excitement and humour on every page; and it's just the story of a year in the life of a Canadian family. Not once does Mrs. Quayle have to stoop to vulgarity to put her story

Serious Shortage

We've used all our honey pails and coffee tins for salvage grease, what to do now?

With both coffee and honey bought by the coupon's worth, it tands to reason that once the stock of cans on hand was exhausted 'here wouldn't be any more. Some of us are holding back a few that we like to bake those special little puddings, cakes, and fancy breads n. We can't let them go. For instance, there are the three holey pails for Christmas puddings that fit nicely in the big steamer, and the six baking powder tins for nut or Boston brown bread, and the four coffee tins for cake.

Come to think of it, and seeing we won't be doing so much baking this Christmas on account of raisins and currents being so scarce, Maybe you did't come over with the U.E. Loyalists, but that perhaps we can sort out some of those pet cans to help win the war.

Se the shortage is temporarily overcome,-but only temporarily.

JUST A LOT OF BIRD SEED ON THE SCYAMORE TREE

Last week we put forth the argument that this bowling game that Whizzer Kanmacher incroduced into our midst, was the cause of goofiness among our best citizens. Here is proof positive of it. . week ago Tuesday Old S.scke McBride howled the tremendous score o 216. He was pretty proud of that tally. Last Thursday night he tool The Independent, a lead pencil, a sheet of paper and two good hours of time and came up with the following disturbing statistics. He found that last week in the Men's Bowling league 300 games were played He next found that only 52 games were better than 216. On that basi he figures that he fits into 53rd place and is thus 247 ahead of the tail ender. Goofy? No, just queer. . . . Our Little Mary Irvine and he Valiant team are sure battling for top honors in the Peach Queen's league. They trimmed up Corinne Robertson and her Victory lassie two-one but the wise boys figured that Valiants would not be a valiant when they hit the Mayflower outfit. They met on Friday night Here is the result: Vallants-855, 749, 728-2332; Mayflowers-798 748, 747-2293. Note that second game that the Valiants only won by one point. On the three games they only beat Madeline Lambert and her sisters by 39 points. Mighty even bowling, say we. This leave the Victory and Valiant teams tied with 24 points apiece for the leader ship. . . . Corrine Robertson is somewhat off her bowling. While she still has the high average she has dropped to 194. Three weeks ago she had an average of 212. As a matter of fact the whole Victory team seem to be off their feed. . . . Hear about the Little Whizzer. Had to turn pin-boy the other day and that means work. But it was a change anyway. He made a new record for the Bowlaway, setting up 30 games in 10 minutes. . . . All is quiet in the Men's Bowling League Ollie Show has a frog in his throat.

Grimsby's Sporting Patriarch

WILLIAM J. SCHWAB, despite his years, is still the younge and keenest sport follower in the Fruit Belt today. He will give an young fellow in town a terrible argument for 50 yards. In his young days he and Dave Fisher took part in athletic meets all over Ontar competing in the 100 and 220 yard dashes with no little success. W a member of the famous Grimsby Hook and Ladder running team th held the championship of Ontario and Western New York for many years, back in the Gay Nineties. Was a baseball and softball player for years unnumbered and then he took up lawn bowling. The four bowls on the ground in the above picture he won as a prize the year that he and the late George B. McConachie won the much coveted Globe Scotch Doubles. The large trophy is the Frank E. Lalor Cup., the largest sporting trophy in Canada, which the Brock Snyder rink won at Dunnville last summer, Bill being a member of the rink. He is a veteran of the last war and on his breast are three sets of medals. The Fenian Raid medals of his late father Frederick Schwab, the posthumously awarded 1914-18 medals of his son William J., Jr., who was killed on the Somme in 1916 and his own 1914-18 medals. His sporting activities at present are confined to five-pin bowling with the Peach Kings team, but he is willing and ready on a moment's notice to take a whirl at any other kind of game that you want to bring along. Age? Well, how old was Ann?

A touching incident: In a big city there is a hospital for incurable sick children, often in great pain. Yet, out of their own little allowance of pocket money, they clubbed together and bought or made the useful and needed articles to fill six ditty bags for lucky sailors this Christmas. It was just spontaneous!

Go Up In Smoke

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed most of a ten-ton truck load of waste rags on the Queen Elizabeth Way, at the Grimsby Beach subway. Friday evening. The big truck, owned by Revzen & Tomarin, St. Catharines, was eastbound.

Grimsby firemen, under Fire Chief Alfred LePage, responded to a call ad worked for over three hours before the fire was finally out. By their quick work they saved the truck from damage and also salvaged part of the load.

Constable A. E. Reilly, assisted by Constable George Seymour, of Beamsville, -detoured traffic around the fire for three hours. The rags were baled in 600-pound bundles and the firemen had a real job in getting them off the truck.

Scouts were blindfolded in this game and they were required to crawl on hands and knees through a field of obstructions without making any noise. The hairs on the heads of scouts J. Pasche and L. Lindensmith were bristling when Mrs. M. Zimmerman laid her fox fur on the floor in front of these scouts as they approached the finish line. As they were inspecting this obstruction a light pinch added to the port to the United Kingdom, effective Monday, November 15th, was announced November 12th by the Meat poard. The new price schedule increased the price for A Grade No. 1 Sizeable (55-65 lb.) Wiltshire sides from $21.95 to $22.70 per 100 lb. at Canadian seaboard with corresponding increases in price for other grades, weights and selections of Wiltshires and export cuts and becomes applicable on all products put into cure from hogs slaughtered on and after November 15th.

On October 22nd last, Agriculture Minister Cardiner announced that a new becon agreement was being negotiated with the British Ministry of Food for a two-year period, 1944-45, based on an increase of 75 cents per 100 lb. for A Grade bacon, over the price provided in the present agreement.

The Meat Board states, b that any price increase for in a new agreement wo. at not apply on shipments to the United Kingdom until the present con ract of 675 million pounds of bacon is completed, but the Board is new able to increase the price to the level proposed in the new agreement from savings accumulated during operations under the present contract to date.

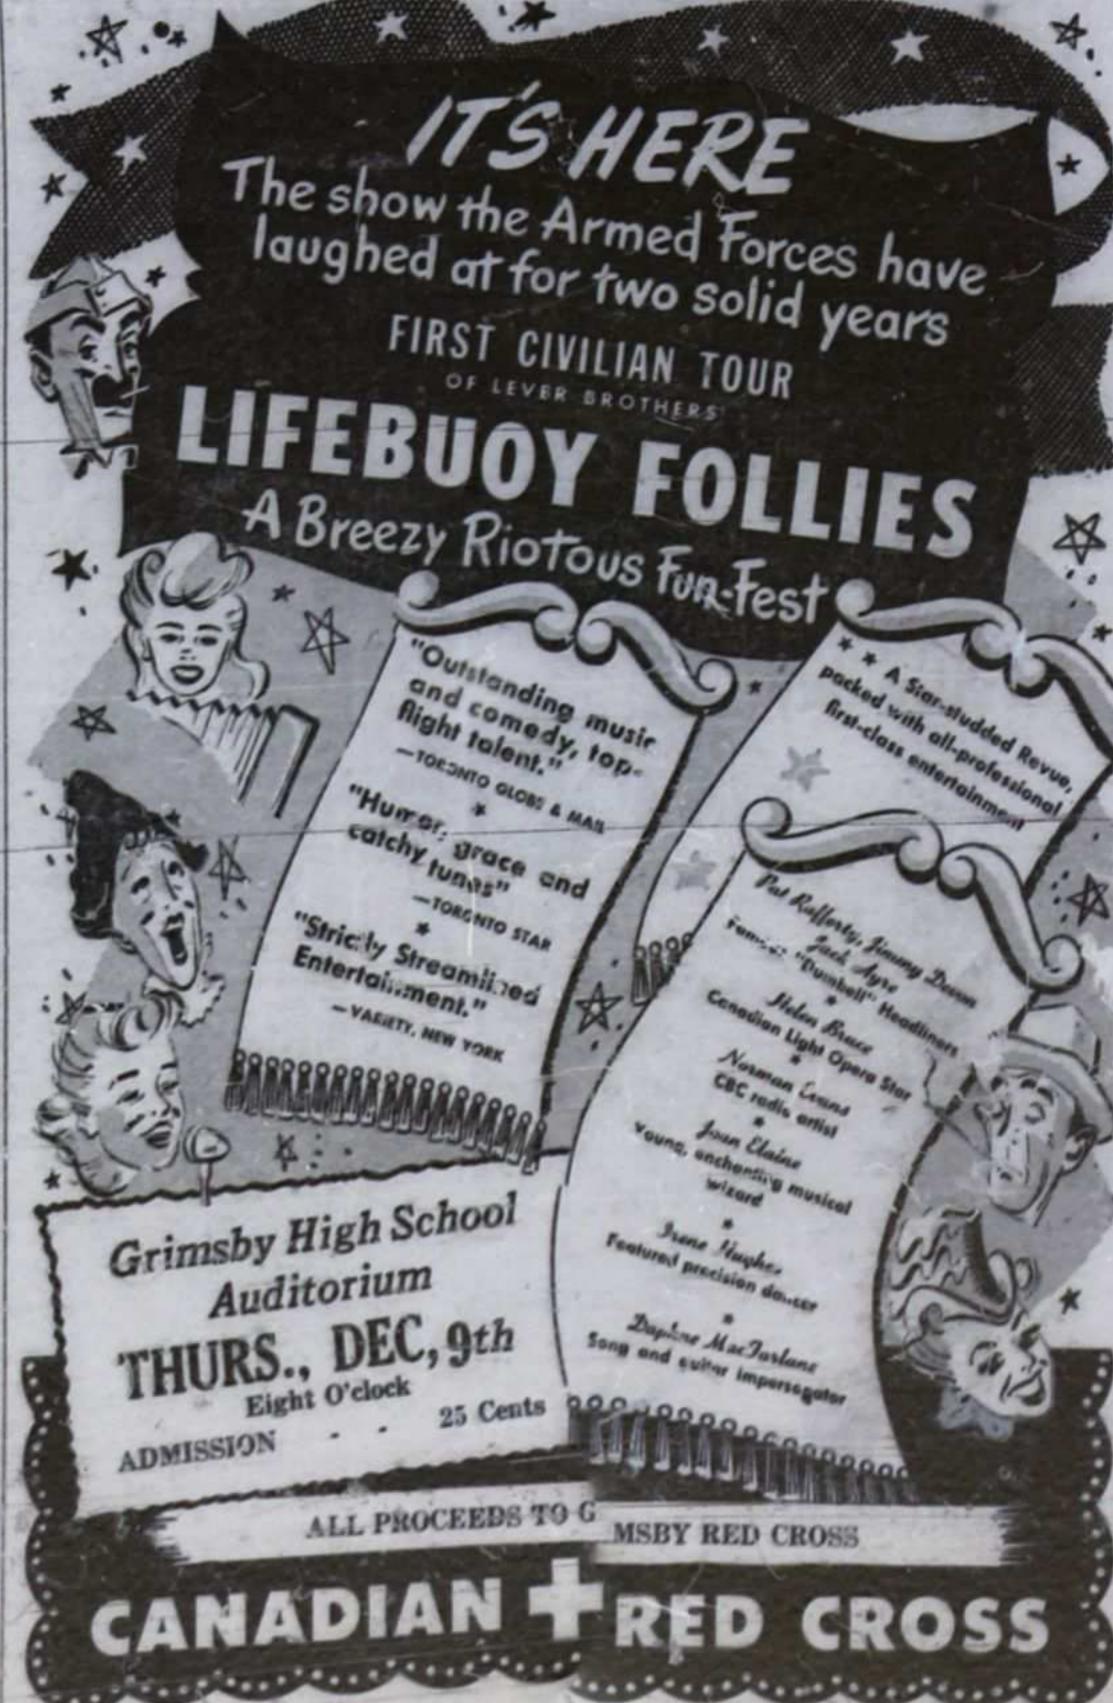

It is estimated that the increase in the price paid for export bacon should raise hog prices by approximately 50 cents per hundred pounds warm dressed weight and will accordingly raise the price level for all hogs marketed. Hog producers will, therefore, secure, as from November 15th, the full advantage of the anticipated increase in price under the new agreement nothwithstanding the fact that a considerable quantity of bacor still has to be purchased to complete the present agreement.
